pleasure of the British government, to be in or to prosecute lawful jurguis in the great arms of the sea extending Letween ports of the main hand belonging to the British, and which are rore than slx merine miles broad. The three mule limit is construed by the committee to rean three mile from shore, irrespective of headlands. The report deals at length with the treaties with bread Britain upon the subject, quotes from the forming organization thance, defines what the committee consider American feltermen may and may not do in North American waters under the laws as they now cand, and continues as follows: "It would seem that it is the deliberate purpose of the British gove in news of course cased up what tension there was on this score and caused a decline. The stand all to California, even with last night's fall, doesnot much exceed an inch, whereas about eight inches is the usual quantity. Two years ago, however, there was a dry spell that caused it a mimost anxiety, and which was not relieved until lanuary 25. As last night a rain is altead of that date, it is expected that this pear's crop will be saved, as that of 1864 35 was. But the latk of drought is not by any means it could be seasilated part of california gossip. It rearly a week it has been talked that there was a bull cloque in wheat, which was backed by the great lank of Nevada. This gossip has been indulged in all over the world. the Beault of tareless Barding of a Trunk Ful of Dynamite

1.11111 R. Jan 1 — A buggage car attached to the New York limited express which arrived be elast night, was almost blown to pieces by fynamic, or some other terrible explosive, a few miles east of Altoona, Pennsylvania. Baggage mater Harvey Mingons, who was in the car at the fine, was badly hurt. A trunk was put on the train at Doncan, hear Harnsborg, and was checked through to Pitteburg. Mingus was arranging the trunks in the car. He picked up a small, ordinary trunk and threw it on top of some other baggage. An explosion followed, which lifted the top of the car as thought it were made of paper, and scattered fragments in all directions. The shock was terrible and startled the engineer and train men. It also attracted the attention of the passengers, and when it was found that the baggage car had been almost blown to pieces the greatest valence of the car at the train was stopped and the baggage was transferred to unother car. Mingus wasserious by impured, but will recover. A brakeman who was in the car at the time escaped by being thrown behind a slack of trunks the damaged car was sidetracked, and the train then proceeded on its way. The Pennsyltanta railroad officials have de telmined to sift the matter to the bottom. The owner of the trunk was arrested, when he presented his check for it at the baggage room this morning. He said he was a lungarian coal timer, that his game was John Kagman, and he can a from Hazleton in search of work, and strenously denied that there was ang explosive in the trunk. It contained, he can man, nothing but clothing, with some matches. Pending an investigati n be will be detained.

JONDON, Jan 10 — The hall in Princess street, where the faint partic occurred last night, was a favorite resort for Jews of that part of London. Intertainments have been given here every night for a long time past. Last night a benefit performance was given, and the place was crowded. Puring the progress of the play a man and a woman quarreled in the street outside and near the main doorway of the hall. The man used violance and the woman is reasned. Her cry was heard by a passerby, who miscunderstood it and shouled "Frea." The witness screens and the cross of fire were lead in ide and at once created a panic, the actioner numbering 5(3, rising in a body and rook or gellinall for the main entrance. Strong men attempted to pass them, and screen and children fell at the doorway as a uniting blocks. They tripped up others, who were cruched a will jute rush of the frantic rrowd. i at moong those who first reached it were a cut her of women and children, who had been cut it in some of the rear seats. They were well to be to crow he behind.

The cut find was indescribably ruthless and truth al bough of course not willful, it being a suprema case of every one for himself. It is stated that a tomber of infants carried in their notiers arms, and clong to through the panit, were also crushed or emothered to death, and that a number of othere were fatally injured. The sected during the attempt to return, of the crowd, was painful in the extreme. The bereaved remained at the doorways all night awaiting to have their dead restored to them, and the lamentations of the women were lieutibreaking. The police have been giving a number of contradictory stories about the cause of the panic. One statement is that it was started by the cry of first, for the purpose of getting a chance to despoil many rich Jewesam in the hall of costly jewels they bore on their persons to the entertainment.

THE SCRNE THE NEXT MORNING

The ball to-day resembles a disordered auction from Broken furniture, crushed toya, chidren caps, broken bottles, orange peel, actors' wigs, and shreds of clothes ile scattered over the floor Many blood spots are on the bicks of chairs and on the floor. Here and there are ghastly knots of hair clinging to the furniture. Several escapes were made through the windows, most of which are badly smashed. The bodies were found at its thicm of the stone stairs leading to the gallery. Here a a terrible straggle took place between the front of the crowd rushing from the main floor, and the leaders of the through which rushed down the gallery stairs. The dead lay mestly in two opposing rows, the feet of each row close to those of the other, one row of heads lying toward the gallery stairway, and the other toward the opposite side of the hall. The faces of the dead were distorted with agonized expressions. The diothes were completely torn from the bodies of some. A little girl, since identified as Eva Marks, was found ying at the bottom of the pile dead Her lover limbs were bare, and the upper part of her dress westorn is shreds, showing she had fought bard for her life. I saac Levy, a venerable Hebrew, with white flowing beard and hair, was found among the dead. He and his wife were regular attendants at the performances. They always sat near the door. It is thought, from the position in which his body was found. wearing brightly colored clothes and quantities of lowery. Beside her lay their little boy, whose in therebookers and stockings were torn

A man named Harris teoldberg says he went to the palters of the hall, accompanied by his wife and family. They all est together. The play was a meriodrama called "The Spanish trips" of it in order to obtain a better view of the slege, chimbed up an exposed gaspipe fixed a trip it will. This strained and started a lerk toudberg placed his handlerchief over the leak and some one shouted "Turn off the meter This shout was rated simultaneously with a cry of alarm from one of the actors on the sage. Then the people in the gallery rose and rushed headlong down the starts. Indiderg a wife was torn away from him and trampled to death. It so jest old son jumped upon the heads of the packed mass and escaped by running over them. The managers are not to blame for the diesster. The passage from the hall to the street entrance is ten feet wide, where the stringels occurred, and the doors swing both ways. There are several minor exits from the gallery, besides the staircases. The disaster arose, not from the crowding of the passage, but from the property from the passage, where they met the sirred their way down the crowded stairs. The men and women in front were driven headlong into the passage, where they met the excited occupants of the pit, and there was a hopoless block.

SALEE, Jan. 19.-No legislature for ion years has gone to work with so much zeal as the presant one. Industry is the unwritten rule of the session. In both houses business is dispatched with a rapidity rarely equaled. The work up to this time has been mostly preliminary, no bill yet having reached its third reading in either branch, but there has been no variation from the order of business with consequent loss of time, and the work is all going forward.

Bills continue to pour in and their number is likely to reach that of the session of 1865, when nearly 460 were introduced. Up to this time 11.7 bave been presented in the senate and 130 in the

BEAPPORTIONNES C.

Reapportionment has become suddenly the question of the session. There is likel bood that a big fight will be made over it. The action of the republican caucus last night is understead by the democrate to Indicate an effort to put through a republican measure and while this purpose is disclaimed by republicans, the matter is rapidly working into shape as a distinct party issue. There is politics in the question from both points of view. The republicans have not strength enough to pass a bill over an executive veto, on the other hand it is assumed that the goverror, for party reasons, could not afford to veto any scheme of reapportionment not radically enjust. The joint committee of five republi cans and four democrats, provided for by a joint resolution on Monday, was made up to-day by the appointment of Hare. Miller, Canthorn and Wager on the part of the senate, and Good-sell, Langhin, Benjamin, Mitchell and Bigs on the part of the house. The various bills in troduced up to date will be referred to this committee, and nobody dares guess at the result.

CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION In the house this afternoon Taylor introduced a bill providing for a constitutional convention, to meet this coming October The measure has excited but little comment, but I am of the opinion that the better judgment of both houses will oppose it. The republican majority cra tainly will be too wise, on party grounds alone, to permit the bill to pass while there as a demagrat in the executive chair and while the air is full of wild and dangerous theories.

The house bill to advance the pay of supreme udges from $3,000 to $9000 was the subject of peculiar action this morning. When it came up for second reading a motion to indefinitely postpone was carried, after a running debate on the general ground that it was believed to bein vio-lation of the state constitution. At the after moon session the bill was revived by a vote to re-consider and given into the hands of the judiciary committee. The measure has small change of success, since it has to meat opposition, not only upon its merits, but upon the ground that it is, or appears to be in violation of the constr

There are ramors to-night of a forthcoming scandal in connection with the employment of women clerks. It is whispered that a commit tee chairman, in disposing of a clerkship, mal or proposed, to a roung woman who applied to him, a dishonormble condition of employment An effort is being made to investigate the matter quietly, and if positive evidence can be found the man implicated will be charged before the motion made for his expulsion,

THE COMMITTER TO VISIT ASSOCIA Gray's proposition for the committee on com both houses and the joint committee on the fishery interest to visit Astoria, the for will be reconsidered to-morrow, and that the party will probably leave here Friday after noon. It is more than likely that the adjourn ment of Friday will be till Monday, as the work is well along, in fact is far ahead of the punter, although his office is busy night and day, and dispatching work with all possible expedition

THE THAT TREEK ROAD SATHER.

S.J.R. No.1, by Rinehart, In a commutes to investigate the manner of construction of the Pine creek road, the manner of expending the money, etc., was called up.

Rinehart moved its adoption.

Wager said before voting for the resolution be would like to know what special necessity there was for an investigation. These investigations cost a great deal of money. Some time ago the governor of the state took pains to investigate the road and the manner of the expenditure of the money, and since expressed himself publicly and privately that we rything was all right.

Rinehart said there was an impression abroad that this money had not been rightly expended, and in justice to the county, the commusioners and all concerned the matter bught to be to vestigated.

Rinshart explained that there was an injunction suit involving $2400 in the courts, and had been there two terms without any action being taken. How much longer it would remain there be didn't know. The money was appropriated by the legislature and they should investigate the matter. Weatherford said if the matter was in the courts it had better stay there.

The resolution was put to a vote and lost, Rinehart alone voting in favor of it.

min in the present and the present all the interest and the colling of the cultoring Frind mona and trult Growest association waited upon General Manager A N Towne, of the Suthern Pacific company, to night to obtain reduced freight rates on fruit shipments asst. He granted a rate of $50 cm for a train of time cars to thicago, the time to be not more than twenty hours slower than a passenger train fee commutes expect to get a rate of $100 cm he commutes the present and it was done with the proviso that the interstate commerce bill does not interfere. In stating this far Towne intimated that the workings of the interstate commerce bill now before congress might oblige the railroad company to annual this reduction and inautont the present rate.

BAILBOAD OPPOSITION

The Interstate Commerce Bill to be Contested Promptly in the Courts San Eurocise of Jan 1) — The railroad man agers here do not like the long and short bank agens here do not like the long and short hard provision of the Reagan interstate commerce bill, and will give the United States supreme court a chance to pass upon its constitutionally as soon as an attempt is made to enforce it after it tecomes a law. They say it is unconstitutional because it is in violation of a contract, specific and implied. The charters of all the roads give them a great deal of intitude in fixing thorages, and the managers claim that any restriction of that latitude is a violation of their contract. They set up a claim also that the bill contract. They set up a claim also that the bill is an attempt to deprive certain places of their grographical advantages, and will force a total abandonment of the attempt to compete with steamer transportation from the Atlantic t, the Pacific.

East PORTIAND, Jan. 1, 188.
To the Froton of the Orrowalas
In your issue of the 17th inst appeared a sinoism of my sermon on last bunday, which for lack of fullness misrepresented me. At the time I thought of letting it pass, but as letters of inquiry from leading members of my church ask for explanation, I would like to explain. The sermon was on the atonement, as illustrated and set forth by the pascal lamb. Exed vii., 11 "And the blood shall be to you for a token upon the houses where ye are, and when I see the blood I will pass over you and the plague shall not be upon you when I saute the land of Exppt."

I see the blood I will pass over you and the plague shall not be upon you when I stude the land of Egypt."

This type is a picture drawn of three about 100 years before his birth. A type must and its exact resemblance and counterpart in the ante-type and this embraced the following points let, the lamb must be "without blemish." 21, a "male of the first year." 1, killed at the mith hour con 30 clock. Ith, not a bone to be broken, ab, its blood to be sprinkled on the press and linels of the door ofth, none on the threshold not to be tradien under food, Heb. x, 20, th, to be calen with "unleavened bread," excluding all ideas of corruption or decomposition a perfect picture. As one man strains gression by natural lew reached every man if the take, so this atonement extended to every man if the take, so this atonement extended to every man if the cake, so this atonement extended to every man if the cake, so this atonement extended to every man if the cake, so the major that the cake which I had no control invided me in a lift with, make dedomined shat another act by the same rupresentative should come to the impediment.

for McGhm, in an article in the North A in and her w for December, thus describes the cerrge land theory. Henry feering has taught that it is not desirable nor possible to divide land equally that the right of the individual is not to an equal or normal common of wherehip. Henry feeding has shown that the beautiful economic law of ren! suggests a simple and peareful means or giving to every human being just what belongs to him of the common state. He shows that rent is a good not a bad, thing that it is againgt of the degree af progress from the semi-harbaric, no madic conditions up to the conditions of the highest civilization. He shows that economic rent—that "uncerned increment" which at taches to land by reason of the growth of population and the progress of thilization—is a value produced by the social aggregate, as distinguished from the value produced by the individual, and that thus is provided, by natural law, a common fund which may be drawn upon for common needs without hampering capital or oppressing labor by taxes which check production of raise prices.

But in Irishand for generations of the Irishand for generation of Irishand for generation of the Irishand for generation of Irishand for generati hope and social aspiration. The priest, builed and persecuted with his people when adherence to the Catholic faith was made the badge of an inferior caste and the mark of the most afroccous penal laws, became the devoted friend, the trusted guide, the father and learner of his flock in things temporal as in things spiritual and while athersm and indifference have roised their waves over France and Germany and flalt, the Irish heart has remained devotedly and intensely Catholic

It is beart has remained devotedly and intensely catholic. But this devotion has been put to some severe tests. Since persecution has ceased, the English government has sought to use the national faith to insure Irish submission, and there has grown up among the Irish Catholics a weathy class eager for social "respectability," that have come to be known as "Castle Catholics"—fawmers at the court of the lord lieutensat, and the bitterest opponents of any movement that has looked to the assertion of popular rights. The priests for the most part have remained time to the people, and to their appraisable to the hands of the oppressor. The solicitations of the kinglish government gained for the Irish church at Rome a recognition which its devotion had never attained by the approminent of an Irish cardinal in the person of Cardinal Micabe, were as devoted to Fingush dominance and lauddord interests as though they had been the direct appointees of the laud his growth had not obgarchy. While Cardinal Micabe lived no priest in his diocease dared say one word in pull is for the national movement, the single curate in buthin, Father kane, who attended a lind league meeting, being compelled to publicly applegic and then without the De

Frenthe noble-hearted women who, when the Irish leaders were cast into prison kept the cause after were consumed to an archiepiscopal pastoral.

On the death of Cardinal Met abe, the appointment of a successor of the same kind was only defeated by the determined attinde of the Irish piners and people, led by such printes as Archiebiscop (roke and fiship built, who, in unemiscoal language, told the Roman authorities that the course to which they were prompted by the English government and the Castle Cutho lies would mevitably lead in Irish of the course to which they were prompted by the English government and the Castle Cutho lies would mevitably lead in Irish of the Just such a revoil of the masses from the church as had already occurred on the condiment. Here in the United States the same condition of things is presented. The Catholic church, which has grown mainly by the multiplication of the Irish element in our population, is a chorch of the poorer masses but in it the rich Catholics of the same genus as the Castle (Atholics of Irish elemant in our population, as a representative of the Soygurth coron—the "Castle Catholics" of New York, an American Cardinal Mickabe.

IDRAS ABOUT LAND There is another thing worth noting. Ireland was never conquered by the Romans, as were England and the Scottish lowlands, and the idea that land could be made private property so as to shut out any class of the people from so as to shut out any class of the people from all legal rights to the use of the earth, opposed as it is to ancient Irish law and custom, was only forced upon Irishad in comparatively modern times, by the force of English arms and the treachery of Irish chiefs, bought, as were the Scottish effections, to betray their countrymen by the promise of a change of the tribateoure of land into an individual tenure which would make it absolutely their own and it is only where the English tongue has supplanted the Irish tongue that Irishmen have forgotten their ancient traditions and become accustomed to regard private property in land as a matter of course.

their ancient traditions and become accustomed to regard private property in land as a matter of course.

"God blees you, my son" said the venerable Bishop Huggan, of Clonfert, to me when I was in Ireland five years ago. "In what you say of the equal rights of all men in the soil of their native land there is to me nothing new or startling, nor will there be anything new in it to any man who was held to the breast of an frish-speaking mother. Your doctrines are the old beliefs of our race. When a little boy, sitting in the evening in the group about a turf fire in the west of Ireland, I have heard the same doctrines from the lips of men who nevar stoke a word of English. Our people have bowed to might but they never have acknowledged the right of making land private property. In the old tongus they have trensured I am an old man now, and may not see the victor; but I tell you that no matter what may be arrayed against it, there is no earthly power that can stop this movement."

And this is characteristic of the tracine people, as I afterward found it, not only in the west of Ireland but in the west of Stotland.

And this is characteristic of the truche people, as I afterward found it, not only in the west of Ireland but in the west of Scotland. To the thoroughly Anglicized Trishman the docume that "God made the land for the people—the doctrine that property in land can not have the sanct in that attaches to property in things produced by labor—may seem a new langled no from but to the descendants of the nen who were driven into the hills and bogs of the west, with the cry of "To connaught or to hell and who with the old traditions, it comes like a half-forgotten, but still familiar and soff evident truth and the radying cry of "The land of the people" with whoh Michael Davitt raised the banner of the land league, makes a purck response in the bosom of the cell.

This is the stock from which, like Michael Favitt and Patrick Ford, Irr McGiyinn comes

He is not punished for having taken part in politics, but for having taken a side in politics which Archbishop Corrigan does not like. The Latholic church does not dony the pripriety of the I nest exercising all the functions of the citizen. In Ireland (atholic priests have long taken the most prominent and active part to politice, and candidates seue their election and dreeses to "the derry and peopis." Archbishop Hughes was noted as a consummate and persistent politician, and the influence of the (atholic hearthy was thrown in the last election in support of Mr. Hewitt, in spite of the wish of many priests who were coerced into a lence but as a priest Dr. Michigan has never taken any part in boilities. He has never interjected the discussion of a burning question into a sermin, as did the archbishop into his pastoral, and he never, in his character of a priest, presumed to offer political advice.

What Dr. Middym is punished for is for taking the side of the workingmen against the system of injustice and spoliation and the rotten rings which have made the government of New York a byword of corruption in the last preschential election Dr. Middyn made some vigorius speeches in behalf of the democratic candidate without a word or thought of reministrance. His sin is in taking a side in politics which was opposed to the rings that had the support of the tatholic hierarchy.

NOT COMPLIMENTARY TO ROME

Whether Pr Medijin will go to Rome is something which rests with himself whether he ought to go to Rome is a matter which may properly be discussed. Some of his friends, following the lead of the impulsive Michael built—who, on the eve of his marriage with a charming lady, was disposed to take rosente by these have seemed to think that Dr. McGijinn ought to obe; the summons to Rome, in order by present the take of those tatholics who be lieve in the common right to land, and first the question to an issue, which would forever still at prefere that this doctrine was condemned by the church.

This might be all very well if Dr McGijinn could go to Rome after some such unsequivocal topular expression, as would convince the Roma authorities that he was the ambiest of the first and authorities that he was the ambiest of the propose to be inflied with Hit for him to go to Rome as a suspended priest with any expectation of getting a Learing as against an archibishop, bucked up by all the influence of the rich's all objects of the 1 hited States and by all the power full influence at Rome, would be fully Progression as recommended by presentation of the cases, even if the propaganda were a parfectly maparimi tribanal.

But it is not. The cardinals of the I conganda are a set of Haisan bourbon publicians, bitterly opposed to everything savoring of freedom and progress, and committed in advance signing low to the "priest McGijinn," who is the all but manimous sentiment of Catholic reland behind them, did back down the propagands and defeat the Earlington influence of his partiality to the "Irish revolution?"

It is true that the patriotic Irish prelates, with the all but manimous sentiment of Catholic reland behind them, did back down the propagand the sile but unanimous sentiment of Catholic Ireland behind them, did back down the propa-ganda and defeat the Errington influence in Rome by forcing, a year ago, the appointment of Dr. Walsh to the archbishopric of Dablin, instead of the "Castle back" who had been selected for the position. But this was done by a practically united Irish hierarchy, consisting of an archbishop and hishops, and under the eigen declaration that the bishops, priests and people of Ireland did not propose to be builted by England through Rome any longer. What chance would a simple priest—a suspended priest at that—with his own arch bishop against him, have before a tribunal where united Catholic Ireland could harely get consideration? Instead of the Irish veltory furnishing any precedent, the bourbons of the propaganda, irriniade at their Irish defeat, would be all the more sure to wreak their veng sance upon the American supporters of the 'Irish revolution'. Not that there is any fear of Rome deciding against the doctrines regarding food's gifts to man, which Dr. Mctiynn has so ably championed. It is too politic for that What it would be simply to side-trank the issue and to drop Dr. Mctiynn, metaphoreally, through some ecclasical trapoor. He would be worried and hemitroken by dalays, compelled to defend himself against all sorts of side charges, and findly sent into some consent or ordered off to Africa or China. As I it, chucking over the suppression of Dr. Mctiynn, declares. "The church bath a million ways of a puelching the insubordhane, and Dr. Mctiynn is marked for squelching. The job will be done delicately, but it will be done effectively." In a will be done of the Mctiynn if he goes to Rome. "He is not sent for to be rom time rated" says this 'My I ord' Preston 'the is sent for to be disciplined."

It is truth is that having Ir. Mctiynn in referred to Rome is a canning scheme to get rid of him with the least possible remonstrance from his cangingation. It won it be unpleasant, to say Ite least, to try it cat off his head here imbone if the world have him so he is to be evented, and time is to be evented until feeling.

This is not true of the Catholic doctrine. There is nothing in the Catholic faith which prevents a believe from being a good citizen and a social reference of the most radical type liut it is too true of these who control the ecclesiastical machinery. And the issue is now made in the case of Ir Motrlynn between the freedom of athoric theology and the spirit of reaction that controls the ecclesiastical machine.

In Rhode Island there is a state civil officer such as Governor Pennoyer thinks there should be in this state. The title of this officer is chief constatite. He is elected, I think, by the legis lature. My attention has never been particularly called to the value of such an officer in the approximation, the large of the facts expenditure. execution of the laws of that state, except from execution of the laws of that state, except from the complaints that have been made that he has not satisfactorily enforced the new prohibitory fluor law. A NATIONAL OBLIGATION.

President Cleveland in his recent message to congress urged the passage of an act to appro-priate money to pay the remaining indebtedness ine to depositors in the Freedmen's Savings and Senator Sherman has introduced a bili to and Schator Sherman has an accessed a suppropriate money to pay it.

In his message the president showed that it is right that this mency should be paid and, in deed, that an obligation rests upon the govern ment to pay it. The bank, during its exi was believed to be a government bank, and the who deposited their money in it had no doubt that they were relying upon the faith and re sponsibility of the United water

It was long asserted that the bank failed because its funds were stolen. But in fact they were not stolen, not a dellar of them, and we now at a anflicient distance from the par them scrimony of that time to obtain a fair and just examination of the subject. This has brought from a democratic president a recom mendation that the den sitors be prid by the

What then became of the money, since it was not stoken? I nder the original charter the funds were invested in bonds of the United States, and hence there was no possibility of loss, but after some years, largely through rep entations from the South, congress was in ced to alter the charter so that real estate might be taken as security Large sums then were lent upon real estate The result might have been foressen. It was, in fact, foressen entized on, and the bank was forced to suspand

Among these who opposed the act of congress that led the bank to its destruction was Senator Stmon Cameron, of Pennsylvania. He gredicted that the privilege which it was proposed to give the bank—that of lending its money on real estate-would lead it to destruc tion, saying "It is a principle which ought not to go into any banking institution at all. It is endangering the depositors of the funds, the small depositors, especially. They are in the irands of persons entirely irresponsible, except imans of persons entirely lrresponsible, exceptive responsibility given by their character. They will be led probably into speculation, and if this money is once invested in real estate it will be very difficult to get it back. My experience has been that whenever institutions of this kind have invested their money in real estate they have gone to destruction. I shall vote against the bill.

THE RAILS AY BRIDGE

The question as to regulation of traffic across the railway bridge has almost superseded the greation as to width of draw. It is concoded. indeed, that there must be a sufficient draw, but it seems to be thought that this is much easier settled than the principles on which the traffi across the bridge is to be regulated

Permission to construct a bridge across so an ortant a waterway is undoubtedly a great priv-lege. Such bridge should be so constructed and managed as to give additional facilities to commerce, not merely to afford an opportunity to the builders of taxing commerce so as to make a large ninount of money on the inves ment and of securing in perpetaity "a god thing" A fair income on the actual cost, after expenses of operation and charges for repairs are met, is the extent to which traffic in such a place ought to be taxed. Such bridge will carry searly all the rail traffic of Portland, and much they who think of allowing a bridge to be conted at such a place should realize that they are administering a trust held for the benefit of the public first of all, and that the interest of the bridge-builders, though important, is but secondary or subordinate to that of the public. How this object can best be secured in the present case The Orlowian does not undertake present case in the question certainly is one that requires very careful consideration by the legislature. This community is very anylong that the quares very careful consideration by the legisla-ture. This community is very anxious that the bridge shall be built, and Tax Onscovias shares in this desire. And yet the point can not be too strongly pressed that in the charter for such bridge the interests of the public should be fully guarded and secured. No company can be permitted to set up a toll house at this chief gateway of Northwestern commerce to lay npon that commerce such tax as it pleases

This convention met at the desig nated time in May, and completed its work the 17th of September, 1757, by formally attesting with signatures of its delegates the constitution that was the result of these four months of This is the day which the executive committee of the constitutional centennial commission, according to the president's message, propose to celebrate by the joint notion of the governors of etates but Senator Hoar is right in refusing to regard it as the adoption of the constitution, for I was only its adoption by the convention, and its establishment was not to be valid until the conventious of nine states should ratify it. The necessary rabification was should ratify in the aware was the first to ratify, December 7, 1787, and the night state, New Humpshire, did not adopt it until June 21, 1755. The great states of Virgina and New York did not vote to ratify the constitution until the 3th of June and 26th of July 1788. It still remained necessary to choose national administration for work under the new constitution and the congress for which it provided. When this was done it then be came possible to carry into effect a resolution of curgress passed. September 18, 1788, "that the first Wednesday in March next, be the time and the present seat of congress (New York) the place for commencing the proceedings under the said constitution. The day for the conven-ing of congress was March 4, 1789 but owing to the lack of a quir mithe house transacted no business until April 1 and the senate none until April 6, on which dus the votes for president and vice president wore opened and counted, and it was not until April 30 that the wheels of government began to more in full operation under our vederal constitution. THE RAILBOAD BRIDGE PORTLAND, Jan. 19, 1887

PORTIAND, JEE 19, 1881

THE EDITOR OF THE URPGONIAN

It is apparent that the Oregon & California Railroad company, as represented by its present Railroad company, as represented by its present receiver, with, if possible, prevent the construction of a ruilroad bridge at Portland. The forms of the amendment proposed by Mr. Koehler require the bridge, take the risk of the enterprise being successful, be alone responsible for injury to persons or property during or after its construction, and bear the whole loss in case the bridge should be carried any or otherwise destroyed.

hould be carried away or otherwise destroys These conditions graciously give the right to use the bridge when constructed to the company urnishing the capital, and constructing the same but an larms greatly less advantageous than those under which any other company is allowed to use it.

Mr. Koebler well knows that no company or unividual mould build bridge under the terms.

Mr Koehler well knows that no company or in tividual would build a bridge upon the terms proposed, and the of ject in pressing the amand ment is manifestly not that the Oreign A (alt form) Halroad company may have the use of use trange upon reasonable term? L 'that n) bridge shall be c ustructed.

The question now is, can Mr Koehler influence the legislature into so loading down the bill with amendments that no company will construct a bridge under it?

All companies should be allowed to use the bridge upon reasonable terms, and in case the parties cannot agree such compensation should be fixed it the county court.

DEMIRED Anoted In the case of the American Mortgage Co., of Scotland, in 1 5 cir. cut court, against the shoriffs of various count ties where the mortgages of the company have been accessed at their face value, the demurrer of Sheriff Minto of Marion county was argued and submitted restarday. The company claim that as all other property in these countes it accessed at one third its real value their mor gages should be assessed on the same plant sheriff Minto demurred on the ground that if the company's mortgages were wrongful overrated by the assessor they had a remedy at law by going to the loand of equalization, and that this estopped them from bringing a suit in equity. To this it was answered that the August assessment was as much the work of the board of equalization as of the assessor. Sheriff Minto further lemurad on the ground that although the Mortgage company alleged that they had tendered the one-third of the tax which they considers to be due, they had not made their tender good by bringing the money into court. To this it was replied that this was not necessary, as they were ready to pay the money at any time.

A Builliant Reportory-Sale of Seats Monday for the Coming Emma Abbott Engagement

Linna Abbott opera engagement at the New Market theater, will begin next Monday morn-ing at "o'dock at D. W. Prentice & Co 's music store, and there can be no doubt of the result, es the people of Fortiand are not slow to appre-crate a good thing when they have the opp ru-nity to do so. In the opening opera, "Is Frav-nata," Emma Abbott as Vojetta will give an Impersonation of one of the saddest and most interesting of operatic herothes. Estry bolly is acquainted with Purma's "Dame Aux (a me lias," but few have heard it remotered as set to verific sweeteet music, and its procuction in Portland by an artist who has gained so much remown in the difficult role of the illifited herome, will be a musical event which will or with the these the with the lite of the city. Since adding "La fravita" to her repertory Emma About has found this operato be one of her great est and most fasting successes. This Prilliant music and dramatic requirements of Videtti are just suited to her abolities as a song bird and emotional actress.

The sparking opera of "Martha" to be given impersonation of one of the saddest and most

TAXATION OF LARGE INCOMES

TO THE EUTOR OF THE ORE OSTAN

I rend your article up in the subject of income taxation in your issue of the 17th, with much interest.

I think that a m terate tax upon large net in

I think that a milerale tax upon large net in come and large legatics, especially for the support of the general government, which be unjust to no an including a mainly supported by direct taxtion upon the people and their property and the equal taxtion of all the people and all the property in a state to defry like economical expenses, is not upjet to any man become expenses, is not upjet to any man become for the tax on which, etc., neither persons nor property are directly taxed for the support of the general government. I very man should pay for the protection a curred to him and his recept the tax on when, see, better persons nor properly are directly taxed it the supp of the general government. I very man should pay for the project on a curred to him and his piperty by the government. I very man should pay for the project on a curred to him and his piperty by the government, his just share of its necessary expenses. But the man who is project worth a mild a dollars, receives more project than the late of the man who has been dead to he man who has little of the project worth a mild a lased upon the measures of the little of the man man has done in the searchest of the insurance of the little worth, would have if a system formula ing for more man as not by the sourcing one houses with $10.00 seach belonging to and terman man just the best government in the world it easy. There are thousands of good, hourst, temper te, hard working men with many families in the indied States who pay more for it is support of the government than jay to util jays. Since the general government is supported by in lirect taxed on and great projectives do not pay just proport in of the expenses of the government, it is eminently just, reasonal let ax on large incomes and logacies. Let the expenses of the government, it is eminently into the trans and legation of a mainty of burth insity a reasonal let ax on large incomes and logacies. Let the expenses of the protect in of property fall more equally on pay in fall more many shirk, that is no sufficient reason why the shull not be taxed. One man is not required the property of other persons for the support of the general government, or shirt in the complete of the general government, or shirt in the support of the general government, or shirt in the support of the general government, or shirt in the support of the general government, or shirt in the support of the general government with the well and taxed on the complete of the general government with the well and should by the wellow of the support of the general government in the support of the general governmen

Yesterday afternoon at about twenty minutes after to clock Jailer Lounsberry, in going his rounds through the county jail, discovered that four men had made their escape from the south couried. He at once began pursuit, as the men had but just made their escape, but up to a late hour they had not been found.

The south corridor of the county jail is so remstructed that it is impossible to keep any watch of what goes on there unless a guard is placed right in the corridor. The east end is walled up, and the only entrance is by a narrow alley at the further and of the tier of cells. The corridor is lighted by three long narrow win dows about six feet above the floor. It was in this sequestered nook that the birds began their work, and in the course of the day they managed to pick away the brick and mortar at one side of the east window, and thus made their secupe. The tools used were splinters of wood, with which they easily picked away the loose rottan mortar. By the faulty and peculiar construction of the south corridor it is impossible to watch it unless a guard be stationed right in it all the time. All day the men in the county clark's office, which is just over the corridor, heard the noise made by the working prisoners, but as bids had just been handed in for the repair of one of the cells, they thought nothing of it. work, and in the course of the day they man-

There is no doubt that the break was planned by Ross, who is a tough one. He pretends to be a sewing machine agent, and in this way has obtained access to houses which he afterward robbed. The south ade of the jail is unsafe, and has been for years. Usually the paller places only such prisoners as are in for minor crimes—assault and battery and the like—in this department. Those held for relony are placed in the north her of cells and are allowed to guercles in the north corridor, which a few years ago was lined with bother from—a very necresary improvement. It would have been the part of prudence to have placed so bad a character as Ross in the safe department. OYCLONE IN LANE COUNTY Trees Twisted, Fences Taken up and Sheep Carried a Long Bistance. COTTAGE GROOM, Or . Jan 19, 1887

To THE EDITION OF THE OREGONIAN

This part of the country was visited on Saturday had by a genuine "cyclone," but of small proportions. It came from the west and proceeded due east. Its greatest fury was exhibited near the residence of S. E. Veatch, about two miles west of Cottage ()rove After coming over the mountain from the Susiaw, it dropped down within one hundred and fifty yards of the above residence and twisted a large firtree, four feet in diameter, off from the roots and turned it as rapidly and seemingly with as much ease as a boy would spin his top for some time before it fell. It then picked up a couple of sheep standing near by and carried them in the air for 200 pards. They were not killed outright, but

died afterwards
In its course it followed the lane leading from S. E. Vestch's to near James McFarland's residence, tearing up trees, fences and everything in its track. The rails were carried to the hight of about 300 feet and hurled 300 yards into the fields on either side of its course. the fields on either side of its course.

Thus it proceeded until within three-quarters of a mile of town, where its fury was intercept ed by a hill near the Masonic and Odd Fellows' cemetery At this point it seemed to break, but its force was not entirely destroyed, by any means. It came rushing on, passing just south of town, tearing fences down, picking up water from low places and spreading destruction, wherever anything could be destroyed, in its way.

wherever enything could be desiroyed, in its way.

After passing Cottage Grove to the distance of about four miles, it seemed to have regained its original lorce, and for a short distance it twisted and tore trees up as if they had been strews.

The width of track passed over by the storm is about thirty rards. It was funnel-shaped and in the center the colors of the rainbow could be plainly distinguished. In its entire course it did not strike a house or barn, and up to present writing I have not heartly of any one gatting burt by it. This is the first storm of the kind that ever visited this part of the country, and the writer does not remember ever hearing of one in the state of anything like such violence

THE STAGE.

THE NEW MARKET -Miss Jeaunie Winston has evidently made as good an impression in Seattle and Victoria as she ever did in Portland. Seattle and Victoria as she ever did in Portland. She sang five performances in Seattle previous to her weak in Victoria, when the theater was trowded the entire week. She returned to Seattle and was greeted with another immense audience Tuesday night. The company play at Tacoma to-night and will be here to-morrow evening, repeating the "Oath of Love" Mr De Lange will sing his accent song, in which he made such a decided hit during his recent engagement. The opera is full of preity musticand will surely crowd New Market again. "The Queen's lace Handkerchief," will be given at Satroday's matines for the first time as a matines bill here. Sents should be secured at once. THE CAS'NO - Last night's performance of ad Hand was a marked improvement over the preceding nights, and evinced that the company have gotten down to business and enter thoroughly into the spirit of their work Miss Clement, if possible, sang and acted with greater effect than see has yet done, which is saying a great deal. Mr Murray has improved wonderfully and gives a splendid personation of the Prince. They were both called before the cultain at the close of the second act. Harry Brown has caught the true spirit of his part, and last night by his intenset; amusing business ever the preced og nights, and evinced that the brown has caught the true spirit of his park, and last night by his intensel; amusing business in the 'Heimat Norg' brought down the house Miss Riseseling an 'Miss Rise his sestained their claim to the tille of artists, and the remainder of the cast and therus appears i to marked advantage. As he coupar has thoroughly fearned the opera its beauties are made more apparent, and those who see it on e will want to see it a second time. "Heart and Haud again longth."

Eisewhere in this issue we present a large advertisement of H. H. Warner & 10, setting forth the fact that up to December 2. 1846 they had sold the enormous amount of 26, 88, 885 battles of "Warner's SAFE Cure in North America alone, to say nothing of the Furopean ard Australian trade. These figures seem aimost incredible, but coming us they do from a boune so well-known and hourozho, we feel safe in attesting to their truttufulness "Warner's SAFE Cure" has cartainly been a great boon to the suffering, and its success has depended altogether upon its own merits. For Kidney, Liver, Blood and trinary trouble, and expectally for Female Complaints its equal was never known, and for this reason it deserves all the praise which it receives.

The present carriage and wagon road to the () R. & Co's and O & ((o s parsenger and freight depote, from the central part of this freight depots, from the cantral part of this city, is long and circuitous, and only made nec essary by the delayed action of our common council in not providing a road to continue on to the late finished improvements at Third and fi streets. The distance to the station from there is not very many rods, and would be of untold benefit, as it would make the depots only a few minutes? rise from the Stark street ferry instead of nearly twenty annates, as at present. The road would not cost so very much, and it is not unlikely the railroad companies, if consult ed in the matter, would sto their share to its immediate completion. The mills of the gods move slowly in East Portland.

THE DALLES WATERWAY

Oregon Not 18, Jan 18, 1881

TO THE EDITOR OF THE ORF. DIAN
I suppose that the big legislative committee have been to The Palles and have examined the have been to The Pailes and have examined the Columbia river to see what is best to be done to open that river and make it a free public high way for the use of the people. I wender how many persons followed that committee who had or wished to have an ax of their own ground there, and desired to hang a tell gate on the Columbia river to fill their own pockets at the expense of the laboring people. I do hope the legislature may have wisdom and patriotism enough to do what is best. As to a ship rall road, I am not well enough informed to speak understandingly. If it is best, all right. But it should not keep us from pursuing some surements to obtain the desired end. A canal, we know, would be a sure thing when completed know, would be a sure thing when completed But can a canal be built. Are we able to build n' I say jes, we are, if we have the will to do it, and every blow we strike will be adding to our strength

I propose to give a little outline of how we can do it. First, if the convict tabor at valence under contract, let those contracts stand, but take the rest of that labor and get it to work at The Dalles under a competent engineer, and our strength have the canal built on a grand scale, having in take the rest of that labor and get it to work at The Dalles under a competent engineer, and have the canal built on a grant each, having in view the passage of commerce and the use of the water power. When the work is laid oil, let the convicts build the buildings where they can be used by them while the work is being done. They can be used for machinery when completed. The rent of these buildings and the water power will bring in a revenue sufficient to keep the canal in running order, and the river will be free indeed.

But now for the labor to build it. We have put lished to the world that we have one of the hiest countries to be found on this continent is of le believe it, and we are crutented and in ter do easy here. That being the case, it bour out; to make and keep society in such a could for our country and to do thus in a way that will benefit all portions we should overhallour laws and clearly define crime, and see that all of our laws and clearly define crime, and see that all of our laws are excuted. Amongst other things, make drunkenness and gambling citness and lines that do not like these laws let them leave, it rithey are a burden upon society wherever they are. If our country is what we have recommended it to be every able bodied person can make an horable living here, and the hard are well a verecommended it to be every able bodied person can make an horable living here, and the beat and the blind are well a verecommended it to be every able bodied person can make an horable living here, and the bland are well as recommended it to be every able bodied person can make an horable living here, and the bland are well as recommended in the law and the bland are well as the winder partless for thieves and tobbers, and they be allowed $2 per day for their detention here on noney take them to the canal at The Dalles, and the palless in a short time, the Columbia to the palless in a short time, the Columbia to the palless in a short time, the Columbia to the palless in a short time, the Columbia to th

A Strong Appeal to the Legislature Against the Present Fence Law

SALEM. JEG. 12, 1847 TO THE PULIOR OF THE CHRISTONIAN
It is fortun the for the state that the present legislature is not burdened with the responsi builty of electing a United States senator, so we of 244 000 Tensmay reasonably expect some good work in the interest of the people.

This state is suffering from unjust and unstatesmanilist legislation enacted years ago, and this legislature can accomplish no greater good to the people than to repeal some of those un just laws and to replace them with those better suited to the civilization of modern times which are estecially oppressive to this class. I shall not occupy space to touch on the laws for the assessment and collection of taxes, which the assessment and collection of taxes, which are being so freely discussed and are of such vital interest to all classes nor shall I devote much space to call attention to the game laws, which are especially burdensome to the farmer-

FORTLAND'S WHARVES.

New Survey of the River Front Made by Lloyd's Agency

A list of the wharves, wharf warehouses and other facilities of wharfage at the city of Port land has this week been prepared by Capi-teeorge Pope, I loyd's surveyor for the puct, and the following particulars of this survey have een culled therefrom

The number of separate wharves on the west

The number of separate wherese on the west side of the river is set down at M, and the total whartage, there is 6342 feet on the line of the river front. The watchouse accommodation of these wherees aggregates a storage capacity of 1.02400 tona, and the average do the of water at the wharves as about 20 feet at 1 be water, or soft clent for the business at present conducted Of course any required depth can be had by diedging, but this expense is not found to be at present necessary. On the east side of the river the number of wharves is 1 and the deal wharfage aggregates 6000 feet on the line of the river front. The warehouse account attention in connection with this wharfage aggregates and the deal wharfage aggregates and the deal wharfage aggregates and the total wharfage aggregates are done from the water attention of the set of the river front. The warehouse accommodation of these wharfage aggregates and the deal of the river the number of wharves is 1 and the deal of wharfage aggregates 600 feet on the line of the river front. The warehouse account state on a connection with this witharfage aggregates a storage capacity of 12 000 tons, and the average mean depth of vater at the lowest is in feet.

By this computation the total wharfage of Portland is nearly 14 000 feet on the river front, Portland is nearly 14 000 feet on t

By this computation the total wharfage of Portland is nearly 14000 feet on the river front, with a warehouse capacity of .34000 fore to the front, with a warehouse capacity of .34000 fore in these lines of whares there are many intervering spaces where no whart is have been lead, but which are a pully as a small a for this purpose of wharf building as the spaces at present so utilized. When fully completed the document will be useful as a reference, and as a valuable compendium of the Portland shipping facilities at the beginning of the present year. Recurring to the figures in the survey we find hat the front measurement of the what ware gives a grand total of 14,000 feet, being 400 yards, or over 2 miles. This amount of what ware house accommodation is even more in excess on the santy ware house accommodation is even more in excess on the santy becomes more settled, the increase in the shipping business must become of construction and a truncted. and projected, which connect or will connect kailroad lines, in the course of construction and projected, which connect or will connect with this city, are multiplying and by the neans of these the country will be made access it is in all directions, and thus the way will be open for more profitable and extended settlement. A much faster increase of the population of the state may be locked for in the future than has been the case in the past, and this in crease will dofibless, ere long, justify greater energy in the manufacturing industry of Portland, and induce more foreign cargoes to be brought here direct. Were such the case out ward freights would be lower than they are now, and prices of grain and other produce for expert would be high in proportion. Be these things as they may, the shipping facilities of the port will always be its mainstay and the trade and connecte of the city will always be fostered chiefly by their aid. THE COURTS.

Make the owner of stock responsible for all damage done by them, and let him use his own judgment as to how to prevent it.

If he thruks it to be to bis advantage to fence let him do so, but if he thruks it cheaper to be delet him do that.

The stock interest would soon adjust itself to the new order of things, we would know just what it cost to raise a cow or a horse, and of tes would vary accordingly.
